

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

We are excited to share with you the first Let Girls Learn projects that have been funded through DFW's $100,000 grant to the Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Fund.

As of late July, nearly $70,000 has been awarded to Peace Corps volunteers around the world to fund 20 grassroots, community-led projects that address barriers to girls' education and improve the quality of education. One hundred percent of DFW's donated dollars goes directly to the projects and to helping women and girls on the ground.

The projects funded by DFW will take place in 13 different countries, many of which are new to DFW such as Benin, Micronesia, Moldova, Krygyzstan, Georgia and Mongolia.

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Benin	Camp GLOW Atlantique	$3,063.98	Camp GLOW (Girls Leading Our World) is a weeklong camp in Benin for girls aged 12-15. The girls are selected from communities throughout southern Benin on the criteria of academics and civic involvement. Throughout the week, the girls will be actively learning and working together in workshops regarding the following topics: Women's/Children's Rights, leadership skills, sexual health, hygiene, importance of education, and malaria prevention. The program also includes art and music lessons provided by an arts and music education NGO and excursions to prominent cultural spots such as museums and historic sites. Most sessions will be led by local community leaders; not only do these men and women have incredible insight and information to share, but they also serve as role models. At the end of the week, the camp will host a group of Beninese female professionals for a Q&A session in which the girls will be able to ask their own questions about the group's careers and envision their own potential futures as independent women of modern Benin.	$1,675.00	$1,617.22	$6,356.20

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Benin	Camp Atacora	$3,495.40	Camp Atacora is Benin's first girls' and boys' camp aimed to bridge the gap between the two genders. This year we hope that by including both sexes in one camp, boys and girls will gain a greater understanding of what equality really is, while giving them opportunities to put these teachings into use. The week long camp is for students ages 12 -16. Each participating Volunteer will bring one counterpart to serve as a role model, facilitator, and chaperon for the duration of the camp and ultimately as a more permanent resource for the community. Volunteers who participated in a Camp GLOW (Girls Leading our World) or a Camp BRO (Boys Respecting Others) in 2015 will bring camp alums that will serve as peer counselors throughout the camp. The camp will incorporate sessions on gender equality, leading healthy lifestyles, the rights of women and children, health education, nutritional gardening, goal setting, and effective study skills. All of the sessions will be co-led by both the counterparts and the Peace Corps volunteers. The ultimate goal of the camp is to increase students' awareness of gender inequality in their communities, develop strategies to respect males and females equally, and to share that information with their communities.	$1,205.00	$1,618.00	$6,318.40

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Ethiopia	Sidama Camp GLOW 2016	$1,262.55	Peace Corps volunteers will work with counterparts to lead educational sessions to encourage and promote leadership, confidence, volunteerism, and positive self esteem among rural Sidama girls in grades 5 and 6. In the rural areas no one knows their ages, but the ages could be anywhere from 11 to 14. The girls will impact their communities by applying newly acquired knowledge and skills in conjunction with their PCV at their sites. Camp activities include gender sessions, journaling, public speaking, teambuilding, tree planting, and mural design. Members of the community will contribute their time to benefit the camp. A local school will donate their use of their compound as well as discount prices for lodging and food for the participants of the camp.	$0.00	$1,257.52	$2,520.07
Ethiopia	Camp GLOW Amhara	$1,918.01	Camp GLOW Amhara will take place at a local University from August 14 to 20, 2016. Forty-two local female students in grades 8 through 11, ages 14 to 17, will attend this week-long gender empowerment and leadership camp. Eight students who have attended previous leadership camps are the driving force behind this project. They are integral in the planning and implementation of the project, and will act as facilitators, mentors, and translators. Additional local counterparts from the local University and PCV towns will donate their time and skills. The University is committed to lessening gender inequities in the local educational system, and as such has donated dorm and classroom space to Camp GLOW Amhara. The week's schedule of gender and development activities will allow participants to discuss the unique challenges facing girls in Ethiopia and to develop strategies to mitigate them. Topics will include leadership; reproductive health; family planning; the effects of sex and gender on HIV risk; healthy relationships and gender-based violence; and self-esteem. Students will leave camp confident and empowered, ready to take on leadership roles in their communities.	$200.00	$1,770.17	$3,888.18

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Ethiopia	Camp GLOW-Bonga	$1,736.19	The 2016 Bonga Camp GLOW will be co-educational and have students and counterparts from several communities participating. The camp will focus on several objectives: promoting gender equality; developing leadership skills; improving self-esteem; increase knowledge of sexual/ reproductive health; supporting aspirations and post-secondary school goals; and environmental awareness. Along with the core objectives, the camp will also promote extra-curricular activities/ constructive free-time. The activities are outlined with each days' focus themes. Monday's focus themes are: What is Gender Equality, What do Gender Roles mean? Tuesday: Focusing on life here (in Ethiopia); Resourceful Attitudes, Intrepid thinking/Setting and attaining goals, the importance of English in Education and Becoming a role model. Wednesday: Sexual and Reproductive health and First-Aid and Day of Dialogue. Thursday: Environmental Awareness Day and Gender swap (male students will prepare a meal for the female students). The extracurricular activities will involve: Counterpart training on Project Design and Management; and students clubs English, Sports, Arts and Crafts, and Drama. The community will contribute lodging (camp to be held at a local high school), skills (language translations, resources, talents, cultural awareness, junior counselors) and labor. The potential impact the project may have is positive. The camp activities' have a heavy emphasis on positive behavioral change and promote peer support. With both of these factors, the students and counterparts will grow interpersonally and carry the growth back to their schools and communities.	$170.00	$2,078.57	$3,984.76

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Georgia	Human Rights for a Better Future	$1,420.89	The project will begin with a Human Rights Club at the local Youth Center (MYC) consisting of 15 youth volunteers. The volunteers will attend meetings three times a week over the course of one month. Meetings will consist of trainings, discussions and critical thinking exercises on the topic of human rights with a focus on women's and girls' rights. In addition to meetings, 4 excursions are planned to visit local sites, museums and organizations that work in the human rights field. Throughout the first month, youth volunteers will develop their own presentations on women's and girls' rights with the assistance of MYC staff. Following the first month of Human Rights Club meetings, the student volunteers will travel to 5 nearby villages to deliver their presentations to student groups at local schools or community centers. Following this, the MYC will hold a "Human Rights Week" consisting of debates, presentations, skits, guest speakers and community outreach activities.	$19.99	$654.21	$2,095.09

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Jamaica	Camp GLOW (Girls Lead Our World) Jamaica 2016	$3,894.08	The Empress Women's Group of Peace Corps Jamaica, in collaboration with Plant Jamaica, plans to coordinate Jamaica's first Camp GLOW for thirty (30) Jamaican girls from rural and low-income communities ages 13-17, specifically where the opportunities to empower young women is often lacking. During a 4-day, 3-night camp, the program aims to lead campers in activities centered on developing leadership skills, self-development, and increasing knowledge of respecting and caring for the environment. We wish to promote the belief that every camper has the ability to make a difference in her community. The above objectives of Camp GLOW will be met through art, music, interaction with nature, and reflective writing. Peace Corps Volunteers, in collaboration with their respective local counterparts across the island, will recruit girls in their communities who are interested in being active change-agents in their communities. The Camp GLOW Committee has partnered with Plant Jamaica and various other organizations and businesses to provide contributions in food items, guest speakers and activity facilitators. This project has incredible potential to set the stage for Camp GLOW to occur annually in Jamaica, with the local community taking ownership over the planning of the camp as it becomes more established.	$436.24	$2,793.76	$7,124.08

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Kyrgyz Republic	Issyk Kul Girls Leading Our World (GLOW)	$4,217.18	Through a Girls Leading our World (GLOW) camp, we will directly address gender-based issues with information about HIV transmission and prevention, peer pressure, reproductive health, healthy relationships, and women's empowerment. The camp will take place over 6 days and will reach out to 35 girls aged 14-17 years-old from the Issyk Kul region. The camp will be facilitated by local contacts. Four peer leaders who attended GLOW last year will be selected via an application process. Each of these peer leaders will have a Peace Corps Volunteer (PCV) to support them in their lesson planning and facilitation. The camp will: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Strengthen Kyrgyz girls' knowledge about HIV transmission and prevention 2) Develop more tolerant and accepting attitudes towards others who may be different 3) Increase Kyrgyz girls' knowledge about the risks associated with alcohol and drugs and learn how these risky behaviors can be directly linked with peer pressure 4) Increase awareness and knowledge of gender issues specific to life in Kyrgyzstan 5) Train students to become trainers and conduct at least six hours of camp-related sessions within their communities 	$0.00	$1,730.15	$5,947.33

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Kyrgyz Republic	Naryn Girls Leading Our World (GLOW) Grant	$3,283.99	Many young women in Kyrgyzstan do not know about STIs, about their bodies' make-up, ways to creatively and critically think about issues in their country, and how to have open discussions about gender equality. Many of these topics are seen as 'ooyat' (shameful) and are often overlooked in schools. Through a Girls Leading our World (GLOW) camp, we will directly address these issues with information about STI transmission and prevention, peer pressure, reproductive health, healthy relationships, leadership, diversity education, and women's empowerment. The camp will take place over 6 days and will reach out to 20 girls aged 14-17 years-old from the Naryn region. The camp will be facilitated by local contacts. 2 Issyk Kul GLOW camp alumni will be chosen to be camp counselors. The camp counselors will have had 3 years of experience attending a GLOW camp as attendees, peer leaders, and camp counselors. They will help facilitate the Training of the Trainers and run the camp. There will be a minimum of 5 local counterparts that will facilitate the lessons. Each of these counterparts will have a Peace Corps Volunteer (PCV) to support them in their lesson planning and facilitation. The camp will: 1) Strengthen Kyrgyz girls' knowledge about STI transmission and prevention 2) Develop more tolerant and accepting attitudes towards others who may be different 3) Increase Kyrgyz girls' knowledge about the risks associated with alcohol and drugs and learn how these risky behaviors can be directly linked with peer pressure 4) Increase awareness and knowledge of gender issues specific to life in Kyrgyzstan 5) Train students to become trainers and conduct at least six hours of camp-related sessions within their communities.	$0.00	$1,461.02	$4,745.01

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Kyrgyz Republic	Community GLOW/BRO (Girls Leading our World/Boys Respecting Others) Grant	$3,820.25	Many of Kyrgyzstan's youth do not know about HIV/AIDs, about their own body's make-up, ways to creatively and critically think about issues in their country, and have not been exposed to open discussions about gender equality. Many of these topics are seen as 'ooyat' (shameful) and are often overlooked in schools. Through a Girls Leading our World/Boys Respecting Others (GLOW/BRO) camp, we will directly address these issues with information about HIV transmission and prevention, peer pressure, reproductive health, healthy relationships, and women empowerment. The camp will take place over 6 days and will reach out to 16 girls and 16 boys aged 14-17 years-old from Talas Oblast (province). The camp will be facilitated by local contacts. One counterpart from each participating school (8 total) will be selected to conduct the sessions. Each of these counterparts will have a Peace Corps Volunteer (PCV) to support them in their lesson planning and facilitation. The counterparts and PCVs will be responsible for monitoring the implementation of the information learned at the camp when the students return to their schools. The camp will: 1) Strengthen Kyrgyz youths' knowledge about HIV transmission and prevention 2) Develop more tolerant and accepting attitudes towards others who may be different 3) Increase Kyrgyz youths' knowledge about the risks associated with alcohol and drugs and learn how these risky behaviors can be directly linked with peer pressure 4) Increase awareness and knowledge of gender issues specific to life in Kyrgyzstan 5) Train students to become trainers and conduct at least six hours of camp-related sessions within their communities.	$100.00	$1,527.22	$5,447.47

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Micronesia	Camp GLOW 2016 Chuuk	$2,481.65	Camp GLOW 2016 Chuuk is a leadership camp for eighth grade girls in the Mortlock Islands of Chuuk. We work to educate young women about their bodies, the environment, and successful education practices. We also work to empower these girls to solve conflicts peacefully, express themselves artistically, and forge relationships across the islands. Camp GLOW 2016 Chuuk was started because PCVs and local teachers noticed a need for discussion and information about what it means to be a young women in the Mortlocks today. Such conversations are normally taboo so we aim to create a space where these subjects can be discussed and reflected upon. Our purpose is to empower female students to be strong, independent, and intelligent young women in their community. The community really drives the success of the camp. Female teachers serve as the counselors, the community donates security, food, and housing, and the community leaders all look forward to seeing how the young women flourish during camp. Some specific project activities that help achieve our objectives include sex education, study tips, health and nutrition seminars, daily exercise and sports activities, as well as art projects. The girls return to their islands having formed strong bonds with Mortlockese female role models and with information about their bodies and life choices.	$0.00	$1,500.00	$3,981.65

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Moldova	Internships --> Career Paths: Workshops to Find the Way IN	$2,514.21	This project aims to empower and promote development of young women, forms 9-12 (young men will be encouraged to apply as well) in education and employment sectors through robust and viable training, activities and guaranteed one month Summer internships at local businesses in the local town in an effort to guide youth toward attainable, clear career paths and mitigate brain drain and migration for work. Our overall objectives are to 1) raise level of education, cooperation and collaboration among students, mentors and employers, 2) help improve levels of professional, employment and preparedness of students transitioning from school to career paths, and 3) improve prospects for students in Moldova to reduce migration. Employers participating in the project will offer a month of internships to 10 local youth. Community leaders and educators will collaborate to inform, select and empower these youth during the internship. Ultimately, the project aspires to provide career path education and guidance to youth; create a sustainable and vigorous collaboration between the community, students and employers and, by example, raise the Moldovan employment profile and image within the country.	$100.00	$890.53	$3,504.74

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Mongolia	Village to City	$3,282.95	Mongolia's economy is experiencing unprecedented growth in industrial and business sectors. Our project's goal is to equip 14 of the brightest and most ambitious students with the necessary knowledge to one day become future leaders. Many of Mongolia's high performing students are females, but the leaders are males. Exposure to female leaders will empower our female students to see and internalize the possibility of becoming leaders in their communities, and will encourage our male students to actively prepare to become competitive job candidates. These students will come from rural villages in the Khovd, Bayankhongor, Bayan-Ulgii, Arkhangai, Uvs, and Khuvsgul provinces, and connect with 8-9 commercial companies now operating in Mongolia. Students will participate in workshops, where they will begin developing professionalism, networking, goal setting, decision making, and action planning skills. Throughout the week, the students will meet key leaders and managers of both genders, tour their offices, and participate in forums that will provide the opportunity to address fundamental questions.	$520.00	$1,764.98	$5,567.93
Mongolia	Girls Leading Our World Camp	$2,690.00	This girls leadership camp will teach 10th-12th grade female students about leadership skills (including teambuilding, critical thinking, communication, and project building), health, and improve self-awareness. Our objective is to teach our students these new skills, then they will apply them in the community, either through a community or school project. The community will contribute both to the camp and the after-camp activities. During the camp, we will primarily have Mongolian teachers for each session and the Youth Development Center has said they will solicit financial and other contributions from the community. After the camp, it will be up to each Mongolian teacher to schedule monthly meetings with camp attendees to check on the project progress, provide some guidance, and continue their leadership training with a short session or game.	$0.00	$968.63	$3,658.63

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Samoa	GLOW Samoa 2016	$7,447.20	In its 5th year of GLOW in Samoa, PCVs are collaborating with The Ministry of Women, Community and Social Development, and UN Women. The 2016 GLOW conference will bring together approximately 60 students from 30 rural primary schools across Upolu, Savaii and Manono, 30 PCVs, 30 local village counterparts, and 10-12 local women who will serve as conference facilitators. At the conference, students will listen to speakers and participate in activities based around the following themes: Careers and Education, Healthy Body, Healthy Mind, and Ending Violence Against Women and Children. At the conclusion of each theme's sessions, the girls will participate in goal setting and leadership activities that will help them develop their ideas for how to take these messages back to their villages. The speakers at the conference will be Samoan women who have all overcome the challenges that come from being a woman in Samoa to develop successful careers. They will share advice and success stories with the girls to encourage and motivate them to develop their own success stories.	$0.00	$6,968.00	$14,415.20

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Senegal	Gem Sa Bopp Young Women's Empowerment Camp/LGL	$3,701.11	Started in 2011, Gem Sa Bopp is a 6 day young women's empowerment camp. This year's installment will target 50 young women between the ages of 14 and 17 who are at risk of dropping out of school due to financial struggles, household obligations, and early marriage. The camp provides these young women a safe, nurturing, and supportive space to engage with strong and positive Senegalese role models. Within this environment, they are able to discuss a variety of topics ranging from gender equality, human rights, career goal development, health skills, environmental stewardship, and financial literacy. We aim to promote and foster positive self-worth, self-efficacy, leadership, concrete life skills, and community engagement. To cultivate these attributes, we provide a curriculum that stimulates their minds and encourages creative thinking. Activities will include a beach clean-up, a lesson on menstruation and reusable pad making, a career panel made up of successful Senegalese women, the Best Game, and many others. This camp is made possible from the strong community support it receives both from a local university which hosts the event to the numerous community leaders who take time out to engage with the participants. The camp also has a dedicated staff of Senegalese counterparts acting as counselors and program assistants, many of whom have been with the camp from its beginnings. It is our hope the young women will see how they can balance school, health, and household responsibilities while still pursuing their aspirations and will incorporate these lessons into their daily lives.	$2,085.00	$2,604.17	$8,390.28

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Thailand	Camp Glow/Bros-Central Thailand	$8,057.14	Throughout Thailand, gender inequality contributes to Thai youth displaying an inaccurate sense of self-worth, capabilities, and potential. This barrier is the driving force behind GLOW/BROS camps. The most recent evolution of GLOW in Thailand is Camp GLOW/BROS (Boys Respecting Others and Self), which includes both girls and boys, as we recognize that all youth have an important role in promoting gender equality in their communities. Youth from PCV host communities across the central region of Thailand will be invited to attend a four-day camp accompanied by their PCV as well as a host country national, such as a teacher or youth group leader. The camp aims to empower youth through activities focusing on self-esteem, leadership, goal setting, and healthy relationships. By focusing on topics such as these, our camp will result in youth with an increased sense of control over their own circumstances and the tools necessary to make informed decisions which will enable them to achieve their goals in life. The training that youth and staff will receive on gender-related issues can later be employed in their individual communities as they encourage their peers to create positive change by proliferating fresh ideas about gender issues.	$250.00	$3,678.00	$11,985.14

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Thailand	Camp GLOW/BROS Thailand- Isaan	$5,801.70	The GLOW/BROS Isaan project will consist of 4 components: 1) a pre-camp, 3-day training event for about 40 university students, to provide them with the skills necessary to assist with implementation of the camp, 2) Camp GLOW/BROS Isaan 2016, 3) ongoing projects or clubs to be developed within the home communities of at least two participating communities following the camp, and 4) a nationwide Summit to be organized in 2017, allowing communities in each of the five regions of Thailand to share their experiences with each other about the activities they developed in their own communities. Camp GLOW/BROS (Girls Leading Our World and Boys Respecting Others and Self) Isaan 2016, will be a 5-day, 5- night camp for both female and male youth, Thai counterparts and Peace Corps volunteers, drawn from 8 communities across the Isaan region. Each day of the camp will consist of activities, lessons and games dedicated to a particular theme, which will address the six goals considered fundamental to any GLOW/BROS camp: gender equality; self-esteem, positive identity, and self-confidence; leadership; healthy living; aspiration and goal-setting; and volunteerism. Camp GLOW/BROS 2016 will reach beyond the confines of the one-time camp experience. In addition to increasing the youths' capacity and knowledge across the aforementioned six goal areas, the project will also increase counterpart and youth leadership capacity, provide necessary skills to sustain the project within the individual participating communities, and to engage more host country entities in the planning and implementation of the project throughout the future.	$55.00	$3,147.83	$9,004.53

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Togo	Take Our Daughters To Work	$1,518.75	Take Our Daughters To Work (TODTW) is a 3 day conference designed to help educate and motivate young school girls in the Plateaux region to take an active interest in their personal health, education, and their futures. This will be achieved by providing the girls with educational sessions and excursions for the purpose of meeting and talking to positive, successful female role models in the community. Throughout TODTW, the girls will learn the life skills, sexual health practices and career development tools necessary to become a responsible and successful female leader in their respective communities. Project Objectives: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Motivate girls to pursue continued education by exposing them to potential career opportunities that are available to them, and by introducing girls to professional female role models; 2) Motivate girls to take personal responsibility for their sexual health and family planning by demonstrating its relationship to continued education; 3) Emphasize the importance of continued education and promote information sharing through the creation of peer educators. The community has offered to facilitate the conference by providing adequate and discounted lodging and facilities. Additionally, various key members of the community such as teachers, medical clinicians, community health agents, young professionals and other community partners have dedicated their time and expertise for our excursions and panel discussions.	$0.00	$568.33	$2,087.08

Peace Corps' Let Girls Learn Project List
First Quarterly Report to Dining for Women (May-July 2016)

Country	Project Name	DFW Contribution Amount	Project Description	Other Donations	Community Contribution	Total Project Cost
Ukraine	Camp GLOW (Girls Leading Our World)	$3,964.65	Camp G.L.O.W. (Girls Leading Our World) will offer a unique opportunity for girls, aged 14-17, from across Ukraine to connect with one another to build strong relationships while addressing serious themes together. The overall focus of the camp will revolve around Leadership in daily life and how it affects other important themes within the lives of girls and women throughout the world. Daily discussions will address such themes as: Gender Equality, Women Around The World, Women's Health, Volunteerism, Healthy Relationships and Self-Importance while incorporating self-empowerment activities and practical life skills training. Campers will be guided through this week-long series of discussions and fun-filled activities by Peace Corps Volunteers and Ukrainian counselors in both English and Ukrainian language. This camp will provide a safe environment for girls to proactively tackle issues and stereotypes surrounding women, to empower themselves through the support of others and to find a voice in their communities, thanks to the Let Girls Learn initiative and Spring of Hope (NGO). By the end of this camp, the girls will be able to identify goals for themselves in the short term and within their individual communities for the long term. Through community support and contribution, these girls will be able to implement their own projects post-GLOW in their own communities thus providing a wide-spread impact throughout the entire community of Ukraine.	$606.69	$6,867.17	$11,438.51
Total DFW Funds allocated:		$69,571.88		$7,422.92	$45,465.48	$122,460.28