The Centers provide a safe gathering place for women
The Centers offer integrated programs to support the recovery of displaced women.
The Basket weavers’ cooperatives generate household income for 215 women.
Income from their craft is a critical lifeline for displaced women
Literacy programs give new opportunities to many women with no formal education.
First aid training helps women care for their families in the absence of health services.
Women walk long distance to collect firewood. Each trip means the risk of rape
Training workshops at the Centers show women how to make and use solar cookers.
Solar cookers are portable, cheap, easy to use, and help reduce risk of rape.
Distribution of blankets at the Centers help keep the desert night chill away.
More planned services:
Midwife training
Mobile Health Clinic
