Collateral Repair Project (CRP) brings much-needed assistance to refugee populations in Jordan and, in doing so, fosters peace and reconciliation. This project will educate and empower refugee women and girls through targeted training and educational activities, along with opportunities for leadership and advocacy.

This project prevents chronic malnutrition in pregnant women and children in Rwanda by using extensive nutrition education, excellent monitoring mechanisms, home visits, and assistance in growing nutritious food.

By improving educational access for women and girls in agroecology leadership, community health, and nutrition, this project will positively impact villages in the central highlands of Guatemala.

This project expands the Maternal Mental Health program to target South Sudanese refugees and introduce a cost-effective, early intervention that can be delivered by lay practitioners.

Women and girls in crisis areas receive the tools and training to speak out for equal rights through theatre, leadership and advocacy training, and informational performances.

This project creates a community of empowered women by teaching them how to earn an income through a skill, educating them about their rights, and providing counseling.